COMMUNITY CARING CONFERENCE QUAD CITY HEROES WANTED!

Nominations are now being accepted for local Quad City heroes to be celebrated at Community Caring Conference's 17th Annual Quad City Hero Awards Banquet on October 7th 2010. You and your neighbors are invited to nominate your hero for one or more of the following categories:

YOUTH This award is for a young person (under 18) from the community who has done something special for a friend, neighbor, classmate, parent or community ... someone who makes a difference!

EDUCATION This award honors a teacher, instructor, administrator, or a student who has made a contribution for their community or an organization, agency or individual who has an outstanding educational program, or a special project with youth or targeted groups.

ORGANIZATION This award is given to groups or organizations that offer special programs to the community that make a positive difference.

BUSINESS This award is handed to a local business that is actively involved in addressing and supporting community needs and willing to help.

LAW ENFORCEMENT This award honors any outstanding law enforcement person or agency that has made a significant difference within the community.

BI-STATE This award is for any individual, organization, agency or business that is community-minded, represents both Illinois and Iowa, and has contributed to the betterment of the Quad City area.

INDIVIDUAL This award allows individuals who are not connected to any group, but who made an outstanding contribution to the community.

CRIME FIGHTER OF THE YEAR This award recognizes individuals within the law enforcement field who made an outstanding contribution to the community.

Remember to offer your best testimonial for your nominee as there are usually many nominations.

If your nominee is chosen for the award, it is your responsibility to present the award to them the night of Thursday October 7th. If you cannot be present, you will be responsible for scheduling someone to take your place at this event.

Nomination forms are available at Community Caring Conference, 1114 -12th Street in Rock Island, IL 61201. You may also call us at 309/786-0345.
